

GRANITE RIDGE

The Natural Choice...

Granite Ridge is a 136 acre gated community located on the west slope of Little Phoenix Mountain. At an elevation of approximately 3600 feet, serene, wooded home sites of 2 to 7 acres offer not only spectacular views, but feature such natural amenities as lush rhododendron, colorful wildflowers, quiet streams, and large boulder outcroppings. At the main entrance, a stone bridge and guardhouse welcome you off the beaten path and into the natural environment of your new home.

Amenities: Granite Ridge provides all you would expect of a fine mountain community including paved roads, underground utilities, deed restrictions, long range views, privacy, wooded lots, architectural guidelines, and, of course, the natural beauty of Little Phoenix Mountain and Little Phoenix Creek. The Blue Ridge Mountains in western North Carolina offers another natural amenity: great weather. The West Jefferson area offers four distinct seasons with a mild edge. Cool summers, moderate winters and brilliant fall colors abound.

The Surrounding Area: The High Country area including West Jefferson, Blowing Rock and Boone offers many amenities and activities befitting a resort area. Enjoy award-winning golf courses, relaxing spas, boutique shopping, fishing excursions down the New River, new ten million dollar professional performing art center offering plays, concerts and art exhibits, and of course, great hiking along the Blue Ridge Parkway.

Only a short drive north, you will be in scenic southwestern Virginia that offers some of the most spectacular outdoor attractions in the area. A visit to Mount Rogers National Recreation Area, which includes Mount Rogers at 5792 feet, The Virginia Creeper Trail, a former railroad now a popular biking and hiking trail, and The Appalachian Trail, a famous Maine to Georgia footpath.

Developers: Behind Granite Ridge is the proud and accomplished name of McNamara Development, LLC. Thomas J. McNamara, Lawrence W. McNamara and James R. McNamara are a four generation home-builder family with a 50-year-old development record on the east coast of Florida, Adirondack Mountains of northern New York and the very successful development of Boulder Creek in the Blowing Rock area, specializing in developing and building high-end single-family home communities. In the High Country, Thomas J. McNamara is a local home builder with a 10-year track record for upper-end priced homes in the Blowing Rock and tri-county area.
